Join Diana Redmond and Marcia Hyatt for a virtual course and learn how to coach by accessing the client's embodied intelligence. Learning will take place through highly interactive exercises, recorded interviews of DCI-trained coaches talking about the coaching implications of their Enneatype, practice, dialogue and demonstrations. Through this live course you will:

- Be introduced to the Enneagram as a means of understanding human nature and for deepening your coaching practice
- Discover personal gifts and challenges relative to your coaching skills
- Develop compassion and appreciation for client's and coach's individual processes and perceptions
- Identify one or two specific actions that will enhance your professional practice
- Learn to coach using full embodied intelligence
